BEST OF BREED

#80 Knot Knot Karma - Breeder: Ernesto Bria, Marius Vancea - Owner: Susan/Nancy Best-Olds

Young bitch, still in full development, presented in outstanding condition. She shows a very good ear set, well shaped and attractive eyes, and correct head proportions for the breed, which give her a typical well balanced and clearly feminine expression. She displays an impeccable topline, complemented by free, confident movement with excellent ring presence. Correctly constructed with good angulation and well balanced overall proportions. Slightly long in body, a characteristic that is acceptable and functional in a bitch, particularly considering her future potential as a brood bitch. Excellent overall presentation and physical condition, although she could benefit from a touch more muscular definition. Congratulations on this Best of Breed, a bitch of excellent quality and promising future.

BEST OF WINNERS

#63 Felizstaff Ziggy Stardust - Breeder: Sandra Mendoza, Feliza Simpfenderfer

Young dog, red and white, of excellent size for his sex, well within the breed standard. He presents a strong, clearly masculine head with very good pigmentation and outstanding head proportions. He shows a strong well set neck that blends correctly into a very good topline. A dog with clear potential, from whom significant development is expected in the future. Nice, correct front and rear construction, a good underline, and overall very well presented and balanced.

#6 GCHG CH Wavemaker Nonesuch – Breeder: Jim & Lynn Caswell - Owner: Jim & Lynn Caswell

Adult dog, close to entering the senior class, who remains in optimal condition for his age. A strong dog of substance, with qualities that can contribute significantly to the breed. He presents a very well-proportioned head, with round, attractive eyes, and well–set ears of good size, giving him a very typical and clearly masculine breed expression. He shows a strong neck, correctly set into a good topline, with powerful, well-laid shoulders. Correctly constructed and well balanced, with very pleasing overall proportions. A very well-presented and balanced dog, showing a slight tendency towards the bull type, an extremely important characteristic for the breed when used appropriately in future breeding programs. He also stands out for his alert and attentive attitude at all times.

#73 Dynastaff Legends Never Die - Breeder: Terry Keetch - Owner: Susan/Nancy Best Olds/Terry Keetch/Janice Snyder

Well-balanced dog with size at the upper limit of the standard while maintaining correct and harmonious overall proportions. He presents a pleasing, breed–typical expression, with eyes correct in shape and size, well–proportioned ears, and correct head proportions. He shows a perfect dentition of good size. An elegant, well-defined neck that blends smoothly into an impeccable topline. A very good underline, indicating agility and functional efficiency; in everyday activity, his quality of movement should be clearly evident. In the ring, he moves correctly and happily showing good reach and drive, with correct front construction and maintaining a firm topline at all times. He has strong, well–balanced shoulders, adequate depth of chest, and very pleasing rear angulation. Very well-presented and in excellent physical condition, showing a very good level of fitness.

SELECT BITCH
#84 GCH Shortyrocks Sand N Shells – Breeder Owner: Sandra Carter/Michelle Bryant/Darius McPhall
Very strong and attractive bitch, presented in outstanding fit condition, with exceptionally well–developed musculature. She shows a strong head with pleasing proportions, a powerful neck, and an impeccable topline, all supported by excellent overall muscle tone. Well–developed ribbing, and very correct front construction. In the rear, she displays strong, well–developed muscles, excellent balance, and very good angulation. Her movement is powerful yet agile at the same time, combining strength with athleticism. A bitch that is always alert and immediately catches the eye due to her impressive and well–developed musculature. Outstanding presentation overall.

AWARD OF MERRIT
#71 GCH Unstoppable Di Mantstaff at Dynastaff – Breeder: Charlene Andrevon - Owner: Terri Keetch
Dog of correct size within breed standard, strong and compact in overall construction. He presents a head of appropriate size for his frame, sufficiently strong as expected in a male, with correct proportions that give him a firm and determined expression. Eyes are correct in shape and size, with ears well set and of appropriate proportions. He shows great strength in neck and shoulders, with excellent balance in the front assembly and very correct construction throughout. He has a very good topline, supported by equally correct rear angulation. Presented in excellent overall condition, strong, compact, and agile. A very attractive dog in the ring, shown to a high standard.

#60 Juggernaut's HMS Victory – Breeder Owner, Larry Petersen and Raymond Lebedeff
Young bitch that stands out for her very pleasing expression, which is one of her most notable features. Viewed from the front she presents exactly what is desired of a bitch of this breed; a well–balanced and harmonious overall picture with a clearly breed–typical expression. Particular mention must be made of the correct size and shape of her eyes, which contribute greatly to her attractive and feminine expression. She shows well in the ring, displaying a very good topline, correct front and rear construction, adequate width of chest, and a pleasing rib cage. She also presents very good rear angulation, adding balance and functionality to her structure. I would like to see her in fitter physical condition to better appreciate her musculature. Nevertheless, she is a young bitch with much still to develop, and a very promising future is expected.

#69 GCH Variant's Cannonball Run – Breeder: Thomas Jacob – Owner: Thomas Jacob/Lynn Caswell
Brindle dog, with size at the upper limit of the standard. A very masculine dog, yet well balanced, presenting a head that is typical of the breed with a very pleasing expression. He shows an impeccable topline, one of the most notable features of his overall construction. He is also very well constructed, with correct front and rear assembly and adequate rear angulation. This results in efficient movement, clearly demonstrating the agility required for the breed. His brindle coloration is highly desirable and important to preserve, as it can contribute greatly to the breed. Very well presented overall, in excellent general condition, and a dog that clearly denotes strength, soundness, and agility.
